Les intervenants

Emmanuel DENOULET, International Build-up Fund of Bpifrance, Paris

Emmanuel has been investing in Family businesses for over 20 years, in transmission situations and buy-and-build projects, mainly cross-border. At Bpifrance, we know that French family businesses are a corner stone of the French economy and that they need to grow abroad. The International Build-up Fund of Bpifrance has a unique proposal as it invests alongside French family businesses directly abroad to finance their projects (buy-and-build or greenfield).

Marc TROST, CPA and French chartered accountant, Washington, D.C.

Marc Trost is co-founder of Orbiss and based in Washington, D.C. s. He started his career in Luxembourg before joining PWC in Paris where he mainly worked with foreign investors in France. Marc relocated to the U.S. in 2012 and acquired a strong experience with servicing subsidiaries of European Groups, as well as foreign individuals living or doing business in the U.S. providing accounting, tax, audit and financial due diligence services. Marc notably serves clients in the franchise, manufacturing, distribution, pharma and service industries.

Olivier ATTIA, Member of TRANSATLANTIC Partners, leading technological entrepreneur, NYC et Paris

Since 2013, Olivier has helped over 200 companies in Tech, Retail and Industrial industries to launch their businesses in the US. From 2008 to 2012, Olivier was CEO of Audionamix, a leading provider of audio source separation technology for the entertainment industry. Olivier is a Certified Federal Mediator since 2019 and has a Negotiation Certification from Harvard Business School. Olivier holds a Master's degree in Marketing and an engineering degree in Information System Management from University Paris, Dauphine. He also earned an honors degree in Physics and Computer Science from University Paris, Pierre et Marie Curie.
